Investment Process

With anomalies as a start point, the investment process seeks to identify and invest in key 'themes' in the Pacific region. Our themes are driven by factors outside of the normal economic cycle and are not yet discounted by the market. Companies are identified and chosen via rigorous bottom-up analysis with emphasis on traditional value and high ROCE. Cash and Index Futures are used when opportunities are few and to reduce portfolio volatility.

Fund Manager Commentary

The fund was up 3.5% in February. Positive contributors to performance remained generally in the South East Asian countries with Philippine BDO Unibank, regional tourism beneficiary Minor International and Thai telecoms and broadband provider Jasmine International leading the way. On the negative side the gold companies were disappointing, as was Hong Kong property developer New World Development.

We travelled during the month to Thailand, Singapore and Malaysia and visited over 28 companies. Our findings make us reasonably confident that the current strong and structural growth story in the region around Thailand remains on track. Indeed, more than half the companies we saw were expecting to beat consensus estimates for this year. True, there are now some signs of frothiness both in the physical market (e.g. there are a lot of new cars on the road in Bangkok!) and in the stock market (several of the main large cap consumer plays are now on very expensive multiples). However, there is no doubt that most Thai companies now see the whole region around Thailand as their addressable client base. This is a total population of nearly 300 million people –the size of the USA! Moreover, infrastructure spending could become a more popular story this year. Siam Cement is an example of both themes. It is expanding into Vietnam, Myanmar, Indonesia and Cambodia whilst local Thai cement demand is rising so the prospect for higher cement prices is also promising.
