Investment Process

With anomalies as a start point, the investment process seeks to identify and invest in key 'themes' in the Pacific region. Our themes are driven by factors outside of the normal economic cycle and are not yet discounted by the market. Companies are identified and chosen via rigorous bottom-up analysis with emphasis on traditional value and high ROCE. Cash and Index Futures are used when opportunities are few and to reduce portfolio volatility.

Fund Manager Commentary

Asian markets continued to climb higher in October, led by North Asia and Australia. Significant positive contributions from the month came from our holdings in Korea, China and Hong Kong; in particular leading Chinese white goods brand, Haier, and Macau casino operator, Sands China, did well. ASEAN continued to take rather more of a back seat, with Thailand seeing a strong reversal mid month as the government tried to pass the Amnesty Bill. This has provoked widespread dissent and more recently some street protests as the opposition views the Bill as a precursor to allowing banished ex-Prime Minister, Thaksin, back into Thailand and Thai politics. We have just returned from a research visit to Thailand and, as is often the way during these political moments, on the ground it was very much business as usual with companies still demonstrating very encouraging growth. That said, the fund's weighting in Thailand is now under 5%, so events there present little risk and we are hoping for a good buying opportunity.

Elsewhere it is China that keeps surprising on the upside. We wrote about the internet last month and the data points continue to be staggeringly positive. For example, Chinese search engine, Baidu, recently posted good results with installations of its mobile app rising 50% quarter on quarter! Mobile revenues are already 14% of total sales but the fun really starts at 20%. The real upside here, we believe, is still to come.
